

Database Administration

This Master in Database Administration Degree (MSDBA) is a specialized professional degree designed for Chief Information Officers (CIO), Database Administrators, Software Engineers, Web Application Developers and other business and technology professionals seeking skills in creating and managing critically important enterprise data and information. MSDBA graduates will possess the skills to formulate the database technologies and innovations for an organization's success in achieving its mission.

Career Opportunities for Database Administration

- Chief Information Officer
- Computer Animator
- Computer operator
- Computer Science Engineer
- Computer Service Technician
- Database Manager
- Operations Manager
- Software Engineer
- Statistician
- Systems Consultant
- Technical Support Technician
- Webmaster
- Database Analyst
- Robotics Technician
- Systems Manager
- Systems Analyst

Employers of Database Administration Graduates

- Computer Store
- Computer Firm
- Computer Science Department
- Self-Employed
- Internet Service Providers
- Government
- Manufacturers of Computer and Electronic Products
- Insurance Companies
- Financial Institutions
- Universities

Professional Associations and Affiliations

- Information Technology Association of America
<http://www.ita.org>
- Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers Computer Professionals <http://www.computer.org>
- Association for Computing Machinery
<http://www.acm.org>
- National Workforce Center for Emerging Technologies
<http://www.nwcet.org>