

Finance

A degree in finance opens opportunities for work in Securities Analysis, Corporate Finance and Bank Administration. Finance majors learn ways to acquire funds and put them to optimal use in order to maximize the value of a firm, whether their career path leads to Banking, Corporate Finance, Securities Analysis, Insurance or Real Estate.

Entry Level Positions in Finance

- Personal financial advisor
- Investment banker
- Credit analyst
- Stock broker
- Insurance sales agent

Further Education/Experience Required

- Controller
- Financial aid officer
- Bank economist
- Financial consultant
- Commercial loan officer

Enhancing Employability

Participate in internships with reputable Financial Advisors. Join local chapters of professional associations in your area. Network with local finance professionals to establish contacts with finance recruiters. Gain good mathematical, accounting, and interpersonal communication skills.

Potential Employers of Finance Majors

- Banks/Financial institutions
- Financial planning agencies
- State/Federal government agencies
- Insurance companies
- Real estate brokers or agencies
- Business and industry
- Credit Unions
- Colleges/Universities
- International agencies
- Newspapers
- Military
- Law Firms

Professional Associations and Affiliations

American Assoc. of Finance & Accounting www.aafa.com

Association for Financial Professionals www.afponline.org

American Finance Association
www.afajof.org

BankJobs.com
www.bankjobs.com

Careers in Business
www.careers-in-business.com

Careers in Finance www.careers-in-finance.com

Chartered Financial Analyst Institute www.cfainstitute.org

Credit Union Executives Society
www.cues.org

Financial Executives Networking Group
www.efinancialjobs.com

Financial Executives Networking Group
www.thefeng.org

Financial Job Network
www.fjn.com

Financial Planning Association
www.fpanet.org

Financial Times Career Point
www.ftcareerpoint.com

Financial Women International www.fwi.org

National Assoc. of Business Economists www.nabe.com

American Academy of Financial Managers www.financialanalyst.org